Razzo Rosso Monopozzo forged wheels are made using an advanced production technique known as rotary forging. In this process, the rim of the wheel is created at high pressure while the forged blank is spun at high speed on a CNC lathe. This spinning action gives the rim area exceptional strength with light weight. A secondary benefit of this new process is a wheel with very low run-out. The center design is then cut-out on a CNC mill to complete the manufacturing process.
